This eye-catching look is a combination of a black & white houndstooth jacket contrasted against a black waistcoat & trousers. Pair with some black velvet tassel loafers without socks.

Another variant of the classic black tux, the grey peak lapel jacket is contrasted against black trousers. The black satin trims also contrast against the grey wool & tie everything together.

WEDDINGS

The navy jacket & trousers are contrasted with the light grey waistcoat inside to produce a fresh wedding look.

Something different for the bolder, fashion forward groom – a black velvet jacket paired with matching black velvet tassel loafers, & a contrast houndstooth pattern trouser.

Waistcoats can really make a statement. This light-grey 3-piece wool suit with an edgy slim notch lapel & slim angled pockets is a paradox of modern yet classy.

This dark navy 3-piece wool suit has a subtle texture of self-patterned lines running through it. The standard notch lapel & straight pocket make it a safe bet for any conservative groom.

Be different with a khaki birds-eye pattern suit for your wedding. The khaki colour hints at a laid back casual attitude.

This black & white houndstooth suit is another unique, slightly more laid back look for your wedding – definitely a standout from standard block colours.

WEDDINGS

Pair blue sharkskin pants with a white jacket to create another unique look that is sure to stand out & turn heads.

This light blue linen jacket will brighten up the day – pair with darker or lighter pants for another contrast look.

The light-grey waistcoat & trouser look is great for weddings that are to be held in hotter climates & are more casual themed. This look is also an option for groomsmen.

For more casual affairs such as beach weddings, this linen waistcoat & rolled up trousers is a great look. Rolled up shirt sleeves & open shirt buttons really complete this casual wedding look.
